Jennifer Willis Arledge is a Partner in the Las Vegas office. She practices in the areas of product liability, pharmaceuticals, medical devices, toxic tort, and construction defect - primarily architects and engineers. Jennifer also handles general liability and bankruptcy matters. The majority of matters she handles are complex and include serious injury or death, and substantial monetary damages.

Jennifer has represented clients that manufacture pharmaceuticals, medical devices, automobiles, motorcycles, recreational products, heavy equipment, and a multitude of consumer products. She has also represented design professionals in complex residential and commercial construction litigation involving construction defect and delay claims. Representative clients include architects, landscape architects, geotechnical and structural engineers. Jennifer also represents major hotels and casinos in general liability matters.

Earlier in her career, Jennifer was an Assistant Public Defender in the State of Ohio, representing juveniles and adults in criminal and family law matters. Following that, she was a solo practitioner with a successful general practice. She began her career representing a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy Trustee in Columbus, Ohio, where she gained a unique perspective on the administration of bankruptcy estates.
